

Re: Role Change in Transportation Services

June 7, 2012

Hello everyone,

I wanted to let you know there have been some recent departmental changes in our transportation services group. Effectively immediately, I will be your main contact as the Transportation Services Manager. Mike Di Giovanni has moved into another role in gas supply, focusing on his strengths on the IT and business processes side of the business.

Going forward, please continue to either call me directly or via our hotline, both of which are noted below. In the event I am away from the office, I will indicate that in my voice message. If you need immediate assistance, please call our hotline and someone else will be able to assist you.

Thanks and have a great summer.
